What is a Service Coordinator?

A Service Coordinator is responsible for assuring that elderly residents, especially those who are frail or at risk, and those non-elderly residents with disabilities, are linked to the specific supportive services they need to continue living independently in their own home.

Service Coordinator's Responsibilities...

To identify the particular needs of Ratekin Tower Residents and any supportive service needs they may have.

This is accomplished by providing information about, and referral to, available services such as:

- ◆ Senior Companions
- ◆ Supplemental Foods
- ◆ Transportation
- ◆ Emergency Support Systems
- ◆ Medicare / Medicaid
- ◆ Health Related Services

Finding vital services for the elderly and disabled often involves complicated applications and confusing eligibility appointments. Dealing with health and financial issues while trying to locate services can be overwhelming and frustrating.

The Service Coordinator's job is to help relieve the tensions of working through this process by helping the resident find and access the appropriate services with out the frustration of feeling helpless and unable to cope on their own.
